

Third bulker for Kuok

Robert Kuok-controlled Pacific Carrier Lines (PCL) has bought another K Line supramax, according to brokers.

Robert Kuok

The company has paid $16.5m for the 56,000-dwt Mokara Colossus (built 2006) as part of a $50m deal that brought the 2006-built supramax sisters Vanda Colossus and Aranda Colossus (both 56,000 dwt). into the fleet.

Lion Shipbrokers said the vessels had been acquired by a joint venture between PCL and Atlantic Management.

The Kuok company operates a fleet of approximately 75 bulkers across all sizes. It has in the past shown a preference for Japanese-built tonnage and has longstanding financing relationships with Japanese trading houses.

K Line, in contrast, has been rationalising its fleet, selling six bulkers since the beginning of this year.

DRY CARGO GARY DIXON IN LONDON

11 February 2013, 08:23 GMT

Share Print Newsletter Signup

RELATED VESSEL

Mokara Colossus

Vanda Colossus

Aranda Colossus

RELATED

Pacific Carrier expands with two buys and a fresh order

K Line selling again?

TradeWinds JOBS >

- Technical Manager
- Operations Executive à Tankers (Oil, Chemical & LPG)
- Senior Chartering Manager (Atlantic Office)
- Marine Manager
- Senior Chartering Manager (Atlantic Office)
- EXPERIENCED DRY CARGO BROKERS
- Tanker Chartering Officer
- Dry Cargo Charterer
- Marine Manager
- Claims Executive
- Senior Chartering Manager (Atlantic Office)